VOTING

“(US Bishops, LivingWe encourage all citizens, particularly Catholics, to embrace their citizenship not merely as a duty and privilege, but as an opportunity meaningfully to participate in building the culture of life. Every voice matters in the public forum. Every vote counts. Every act of responsible citizenship is an exercise of significant individual power. We must exercise that power in ways that defend human life, especially those of God’s children who are unborn, disabled, or otherwise vulnerable” (US Bishops, Living the Gospel of Life, 1998).

FLOOD RELIEF

There will be a second collection this weekend for flood relief in Baton Rouge, LA. There are over 40 families who are homeless and without cars in Saint Francis Xavier Parish. Pastor, Rev. Edward Chiffriller, S.S.J. will use the money collected to assist these families. He will interview each family and then write checks to Sears, Home Depot, etc., or give them gift cards to the stores. He is very experienced at this since he was involved with parishes in New Orleans after Katrina. Thank you for whatever you can do to assist them.

THE POPE SPEAKS: "OVERCOME INDIFFERENCE! (AND PUT AWAY THE CELL PHONE!)"

Fr. Doughty

Since he moved into the Santa Marta Residence, Pope Francis has celebrated Mass publicly every morning; his homilies are reported through various media organizations like the Vatican Radio and Zenit.org. At last Tuesday's Mass, he challenged his audience to overcome our indifference by seeking out an encounter with Jesus. Reading from the gospel of Luke, (read chapter 7:11-17), which described how the Lord raised the dead son of a widowed mother, Francis warned that all too often we do not open ourselves fully to the mystery of Christ in others, even our own family. Our meetings, he suggested, are only meetings, not an encounter:

"An encounter is something different. It is what today's Gospel proclaims to us: an encounter; an encounter between a man and a woman, between an only living son and an only son who had died; among a joyful crowd because they had encountered Jesus and were following him and a group of people, weeping, accompanying that woman, who had come out from the gate of the city; an encounter between the exit gate and the entry gate. The sheep fold. An encounter that makes us reflect on our way of interacting with each other."

Jesus, the Pope said, "was moved with pity" but Jesus's pity is not merely sadness without hope, ineffectual and ultimately indifferent; it rather provides the moment for the encounter which restores and delivers mother and son and all present from fear and incurable grief.

"We are accustomed to a culture of indifference and we must strive and ask for the grace to create a culture of encounter, of a fruitful encounter, of an encounter that restores to each person his or her own dignity as a child of God, the dignity of a living person. We are accustomed to this indifference, when we see the disasters of this world or small things: 'What a shame, poor people, look how they are suffering,' and then we carry on. An encounter. And if I don't look, it's not enough to see, no, (we must) look – if I don't stop, if I don't look, if I don't touch, if I don't speak, I cannot have an encounter and I cannot help to build a culture of encounter."

He extended his message to today's families: "In our families, at the dinner table, how many times while eating, do people watch the TV or write messages on their cell phones. Each one is indifferent to that encounter. Even within the heart of society, which is the family, there is no encounter. May this help us to strive for this culture of encounter, just as simply as Jesus did so. Not just see but look. Not just hear but listen. Not just meet and pass by but stop. And don't just say 'what a shame, poor people,' but allow ourselves to be moved by pity. And then draw near, touch and say in the language that comes to each one of us in that moment, the language of the heart: 'Do not weep,' and donate at the very least a drop of life."
